Three minutes later I was forced to lock the door in the faces of enthusiastic bargain seekers. The store was packed to suffocation. I let the crowd out as they were waited on. At eleven o'clock in came another mob. Again we were forced to do as before and so on continued the day. And every hour since, this store has been

Selling Is My Business

Knowing I could get big business. I planned to handle it. I employed 23 extra clerks. I was swamped—swept off my feet, when I saw the mob of people pouring in, and I did what few sales managers are forced to do—I had to lock 'em out and let 'em in in relays. People came from all over the country to this sale. This sale has broken all my previous records, in crowds and dollars. Why? Because Nash's gave me full authority to sell the stock. They gave the people real merchandise at an exorbitant low price. Now the price goes down again.
